Fragrance Of The Week

Tiglio Mirabilis by Laboratorio Olfattivo

This week's spotlight fragrance is Tiglio Mirabilis, a luminous and poetic creation from Laboratorio Olfattivo that encapsulates the serenity and optimism of a summer day. Born from the collaboration between perfumer Luca Maffei and Roberto Drago, Co-Founder of Kaon and Creative Director of Laboratorio Olfattivo, this fragrance is both nostalgic and forward-looking, an olfactory portrait of beauty in bloom.

L'OFFICIEL

"The idea of Tigliomirabilis," explains Drago, "brought together two inspirations: mine and Luca's. Turin is rich in tree-lined boulevards filled with blossoming linden trees, whose scent fills the air in June. For Luca, it recalls the first days of summer in Versilia. It felt only natural to create a perfume inspired by this beautiful plant."

That harmony of inspiration is felt in every note. Tiglio Mirabilis opens with a sparkling trio of neroli, ginger, and cardamom, a bright, effervescent prelude that evokes sunlight filtering through fresh leaves. The heart reveals the tender, honeyed sweetness of linden blossom blended with jasmine, creating an aura of gentle warmth and joy. Finally, a soft base of cashmere wood and musk wraps the composition in a delicate, sensual embrace, like the fading light of an endless summer afternoon.

Why it's our fragrance of the week: because Tiglio Mirabilis radiates quiet confidence and positivity. It's a scent that celebrates simplicity, emotion, and the small, unforgettable moments when nature and memory intertwine. A fragrance of love, light, and lasting serenity.
